CONDEMN PRIMARY LAW

Democrats May Make Issue of Findings in Pennsylvania Election

Washington—Congress whose membership as a rule lags ahead of everybody else in the art of anticipation—if not apprehension—as to what may happen politically is just now bewildered in trying to figure out the exact effect of the investigation of the Pennsylvania primary election.

Every member who is up for reelection knows that every bit of publicity given to the old-fashioned practice of employing paid watchers at the polls will make just that much more difficult the employment of workers in his behalf this year. Opponents can be depended upon to raise the cry of "big business" and "moneyed interests" all of which makes the collection of campaign funds a little embarrassing for the contributors who are like to have their names blazoned in headlines.

Yet campaigns cannot be fought without funds especially primaries and while the collection of large sums from single contributors may have been made more difficult by the exposure of the task of collecting small sums is even more difficult. It takes time as well as money to set up a collection machinery to finance campaigns by small contributions.

CONDEMN PRIMARY SYSTEM
The net result of this sort of soliloquy leads the average members of congress to conclude that the primary system is even worse than it ever was painted. In other words, the primary compels the payment of large sums for advertising and solicitation and hence the money is not going to be easy to collect then the chances of beating a demagogue or an orator with personal powers of persuasion or publicity-getting powers have been diminished and the almost unanimous feeling privately expressed is that the old convention system would be better all around.

Judging by the questions directed at witnesses by Republicans as well as Democrats and by comments in the cloakrooms of congress, the whole investigation could be construed as a bipartisan attack on the primary system. It may turn into that yet though the primary is a matter for the states to regulate and it offers room for debate and controversy on the part of those who would like to get nomination and who realize they would have no chance under the convention system because the latter tends to perpetuate in power those who already possess control of political machinery.

MAY AID DEMOCRATS
Viewing the matter from the standpoint of party advantage and not abstract politics, the investigation has given the Democrats the hope that out of it may come a national issue. It is, however, a vague hope. The Democrats actually uncovered fraud and serious irregularity in the Teapot Dome scandal but the succeeding election did not indicate that the public thought it a sufficient reason to oust the Republican party in either house of congress or in the executive branches of the government. The truth is that no single individual is to blame for what happened in Pennsylvania and that a system has been exposed which in a lesser degree is true of elections throughout the country where paid watchers are employed and professional electioneering has been in progress. It takes more than a Pennsylvania election contest between three sets of candidates with wealthy friends, it takes more than a Teapot Dome controversy to upset the political opportunities of the Republican party so long as the fingers of the man in the White House are not burned by these fires and the economic prosperity of the country is such a controlling influence with the voters. Even Democratic leaders here and there will concede as much—they admit all these questions produce a cumulative effect but that it must be a dominant issue of competence or incompetence as well as a change in business conditions to make the next national race really interesting though, no doubt, some individual members may this year profit by the effect of the exposures in the Pennsylvania election.

WINNEBAGO-CO WILL ADVOCATE 3 PLANKS IN G. O. P. PLATFORM

Oshkosh — (AP) — A platform of three planks will be advocated by members of the Winnebago-co delegation to the state Republican convention to be held at Milwaukee next week, Thursday and Friday. The three planks will be:
Repeal of the 18th amendment but strict enforcement until such repeal is brought about by due process of law; establishment of a state loan fund to assist Wisconsin farmers to meet their farm mortgage thousands of which will fall due within the next two years; economy and efficiency in state government brought about by proper consolidation of departments and bureaus, with consequent reduction of the number of state employees.

CARDINALS IN SPECIAL TRAIN GO TO CHICAGO

Thousands Bid Farewell to Princes of Church as They Leave New York

New York — (AP) — A cardinal red train bearing nine princes of the Roman Catholic church and their retinues left the Grand Central terminal Wednesday amidst the acclaim of thousands who jammed the great rotunda and the train platforms to bid farewell to the party going to the Eucharistic congress in Chicago.

It required the combined strength of city and station police to restrain the crowds as they pressed forward in an attempt to see or in hope of opportunity to kiss the ring of Cardinal Bonzano, papal legate as he was escorted to the train.

The papal legate and Cardinal Hayes, their escorts following in other cars, were driven to the station under a police escort.
Most of the other cardinals left in a body from the Vanderbilt hotel. So dense was the crowd outside the hotel that it was necessary to divert traffic to allow the cars bearing the party to the station through.

Cardinal Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich went to the station alone from the home of Father Kunig in Brooklyn where he had maintained the incognito he established at the start of his journey. Wednesday however, he abandoned his role of German professor and appeared in his cardinal's robes.

After visiting the engineer and fireman of the train he extended his hand which carried the cardinal's ring outside of red gloves, to the crowd which hemmed him in and allowed over a score to kiss it.
The official party of the train included the nine cardinals two apostolic delegates, four archbishops, several monsignors and lesser clergy. There were 74 passengers of whom but four were laymen. They were Nicholas Brady, two Chicago detectives and a civilian secretary.

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — The election contest brought by Magnus Johnson farmer-labor, against Senator Schall, Republican Minnesota was dismissed Wednesday by the senate without a record vote and without opposition.

The elections committee held after a hearing that there was no basis for the charges of irregularities in the campaign conducted by Senator Schall and that he was entitled to his seat over the former farmer-labor senator.

MORE RAIN IS DIRE FUTURE

Thundershowers Scheduled
by Weatherman for Tonight and Thursday

Slickers, umbrellas and rubbers will be needed Wednesday night and probably Thursday if the weatherman's predictions are true. "Unsettled tonight with thunder showers and rain" has been the portion of the Fox river valley for a week past and it looks as though the weather man will never let up.

The "Old Timer" remarked today that he hasn't seen such a spring for twenty years. He claimed that gardens are not growing because of the exceedingly cold nights.

Monday the temperature registered by the thermometer at Schiefel Hardware Co. store was 51 degrees at 6 o'clock in the morning and at noon it had only risen to 53 degrees. On Tuesday morning the mercury fell to 43 and reached 58 at the warmest part of the day. Wednesday morning the temperature was 46 and it didn't go higher than 55 all day.

Bandits Feared By Frank Are Boys Hunting Route

Madison, — (AP) — Four travel-worn students seeking a pathfinder on the road to Madison were the innocent cause of President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin seeking the protection of sheriff deputies Monday night when he was returning by motorcar from Evanston Ill. Fears that President Frank's automobile was followed by highway men which prompted him to obtain a sheriff's convoy at Elkhorn were set at rest late Tuesday. John Irwin, Minneapolis, Minn., gave the explanation for the car following the University of Wisconsin president who was accompanied by Mrs. Frank. Irwin read newspaper accounts of the episode.

Three other students and myself were returning to our homes from the University of Arizona, he said. "At Lake Geneva we entered a restaurant and asked Frank, whom we did not know, the way to Madison. He referred us to his chauffeur who gave us directions that were unclear so we decided to follow his automobile to Madison."

The other students were Stanley P. Murphy, Minneapolis; Charles Gallagher, Superior and George Sam Madison.

Sheriff George Harrington and two deputies accompanied the Frank car from Elkhorn to Fort Atkinson, a distance of 35 miles when no sign of the "highwaymen" was seen. Irwin explained that they had difficulty in following the Frank car which traveled fast.

LENROOT WANTS CAMPAIGN PROBE

Badger Senator Says Foes
Charge He Has "Slush Fund"

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Upon his return here Wednesday from Wisconsin, Senator Lenroot Republican, said he would formally request the senate campaign fund committee to investigate charges by his opponent, Governor Blaine, that a large "slush fund" is being sent into Wisconsin for use in the senatorial campaign.

"While the committee is at it," he added, "I shall ask that they also go into the expenditures and activities of my opponent's organization."

Senator LaFollette, titular leader of the Progressive-Republican organization in Wisconsin is a member of the campaign fund committee.

CHILE WON'T SEE BOARD'S REPORT

United States Has No Further
Obligation in Tacna Arica
Dispute

Arica, Chile. — (AP) — The highest of Chilean plebiscitary officials here declare they fail to see by what authority the plebiscitary commission proposes to vote on the reports of the commission after having declared the plebiscite proceedings ended. Therefore the participation by the Chilean delegation in a discussion of the report is out of the question.

It is expected the Americans will carry out their intention of rapidly evacuating the territory and stopping as soon as possible the expenses of the commission which involves both Chile and Peru. It is expected that all Americans, except General Lassiter chairman of the commission will leave next Sunday and that he will soon follow them.

The Chilean claim that until a plebiscite is held the sovereignty of Chile remains absolute in Tacna and Arica exactly as before the Washington protocol days.

CLAIM U. S. PRAISED BRAZIL FOR RESIGNING

Geneva — (AP) — League of nations circles were stirred Wednesday by a despatch from Rio Janeiro saying the American Ambassador had congratulated President Bernardes upon Brazil's attitude toward the league of nations.

The dispatch has revived and given strength to reports here that the United States government has been influencing Brazil to adopt a strong policy for attainment of a permanent seat on the league council. These reports were circulated in Geneva during the March session of the League assembly when Brazil threatened to veto the election of Germany.

VOTE DOWN BILL FOR SILVER PURCHASE

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — The senate Wednesday refused by a margin of one vote to reconsider passage of the Pittman bill directing the treasury to purchase 14,500,000 ounces of silver at one dollar an ounce for six years.

DRY VOTES LEAD IN NEW JERSEY

Primary Returns Give Advantage to Prohibition
Candidates

Newark, N. J. — (AP) — Although this state has two wet senators in Washington and a wet governor in Trenton Wednesday's returns from Tuesday's primary elections gave advantage to the drys in two of the three prohibition clashes.

In the third, a woman advocate of a prohibition referendum, Mrs. Adelaide Lawrence, was the winner in a dry county. Mrs. Lawrence is the wife of a circuit court judge, and contested the Democratic nomination from Monmouth-co for the state senate against James R. Hendrickson, a bone dry.

B. Duncan McClave, brought forward by wet Republicans in the sixth congressional district against Representative Randolph Perkins, a dry had lost by 3,000 votes on returns from half the district. The anti-Saloon League termed this battle a "real prohibition referendum" and urged its followers to go to the polls on stretchers, if necessary to vote against the "saturated wet McClave," who favors modification.

The campaign of Assemblyman Herbert J. Pascoe against State Senator Arthur Pierson, dry, for the senatorial nomination in Union-co failed by 4,000 votes.

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Action on all coal legislation was postponed Wednesday by the house commerce committee until December.

LAKE ROW MAY PROLONG SENATE

Won't Adjourn Congress Until River and Harbors Bill
Is Passed

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — House leaders have notified the senate that there will be no adjournment of congress until the river and harbors bill is passed.

After making this known Wednesday Republican leaders in the senate indicated that efforts would be made to reach a compromise on the three most highly controverted sections of the bill, including that affecting diversion of water by Chicago from Lake Michigan, the Missouri river project and the Cape Cod canal purchase.

Unless a compromise is reached, groups of senators are prepared to talk the bill to death in the senate. Representative Fear, Republican, Wisconsin, urged that the Chicago diversion be limited to the 1,200 cubic second feet necessary to care for that municipality's domestic needs.

Representative Snodgrass of Michigan speaking particularly for Detroit, used the hearings before the house rivers and harbors committee to support his contention that the friends of the Illinois river project made no attempt at that time to disguise the report that they favored a large diversion from Lake Michigan for navigation purposes.

RAPS MELLON VERDICT ON M'NARY BILL

Mere Pretext to Prevent Farmer from Benefiting from Protective System

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Secretary Mellon's opinion on the equalization plan of farm relief, now pending before the senate in the McNary bill, brought a sharp retort Wednesday from Representative Dickinson, Republican, Iowa.

"At last the administration is out in the open," he said in a statement given to the Associated Press.

"When the statement of Secretary Mellon is stripped of all specious pretexts, it means that the interests for whom he speaks are not willing that the protective system shall mean anything for the American farmer."

The secretary's opinion that the proposal is economically unsound and unworkable, would provide no permanent benefit for American farmers, would "subsidize" America's foreign competitors and would increase the cost of farm products to American consumers, was written at the request of Representatives Dickinson, Kansas and Chairman Haugen of the house agricultural committee.

MAY ABANDON BILL
Considerable importance has been attached to Mr. Mellon's declaration in the capitol, where the economic principles he opposes already have been defeated in the house and are approaching a vote in the senate. One view was expressed in the Washington Post Wednesday morning which quoted Representative Haugen, Republican, Iowa, who sponsored the bill in the house, as saying:

"There is no use to make any further drive for farm relief now. We have had our day in court."

Representative Dickinson described as "absolutely without warrant" the secretary's statement that the equalization plan, which technically would be paid by the farmer, would in reality be paid by the consumer, and said his purpose evidently was "to solidify opposition to the bill, especially among the working men of the country."

Obviously referring to the defeat of Senator Cummins by former Senator Breaker in the recent senatorial election, Mr. Dickinson declared that if the Mellon view "is the verdict of the administration, then the thunderbolt that came out of Iowa the other day is merely the sheet lightning of the coming storm."

BRAND TRIES TO FORM CABINET

Attempts to Found National Union Cabinet to Replace Ministry

Paris — (AP) — Premier Brand is seeking to form a "national union" cabinet to replace the ministry which resigned Tuesday, but is finding the task more difficult than he anticipated.

The Premier was given the mandate by President Doumergue Wednesday morning after most of those called into consultation at the Elysee palace had urged the need of such a cabinet.

The ministry would include groups as far to the right as the Union Republicans, or the "old Bloc national" headed by Louis Marin and as far left as the groups whose leaders are willing to participate.

Edouard Herriot, radical leader, is understood to have refused to enter a "national union" ministry, and it is expected that he party will formally decide against a "national union" combination.

The Socialists have excluded themselves from such a combination by the decision of their congress at Clermont-Ferrand not to join any other than a purely Socialist ministry.

Former Premier Poincare has indicated that he prefers to remain outside but is willing to waive his personal preferences if it is possible to form a "sacred union" such as was maintained during the war.

With Judge

East Las Vegas, N. Mex. — (AP) — With an interpreter translating every word of the testimony into Spanish for the benefit of 10 members of the jury, the trial of Carl C. Magee, Albuquerque editor who is charged with the slaying of John B. Lassiter here last August, proceeded in district court here Wednesday.

Twenty one witnesses were ready to take the stand for the prosecution. The jury was selected in slightly less than three hours and before the defense had exhausted five of its peremptory challenges. Two of the members of the jury speak and understand English while the other ten must have every part of the proceedings translated by the official court interpreter.

Chief among the state witnesses will be former Judge David J. Leahy, political enemy of Magee, at whom Magee fired the shot that struck Lassiter. Another shot fired by Magee struck Leahy in the arm.

Leahy was the trial judge in two other appearances of Magee in New Mexico courts. Once Magee was found guilty of libel, and again Judge Leahy found him guilty of contempt of court. In both instances Magee was pardoned by the governor.

Defense counsel asked of all the jurymen whether they would accept the defendant if it could be shown that the shot that killed Lassiter was fired in self defense and struck Lassiter by accident. All replied in the affirmative.

BREAD LINES 3 BLOCKS LONG FORM AT DOOR

"Field Marshal" Explains
Success of Political Organization

KNOWS EVERY VOTER

Machine Aids Sick and Helps
Voters Get Out of Jail

Washington — (AP) — Political tenants of William S. Vare in his successful campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination Pennsylvania were jolted along a nerve wracking road of cross examination Wednesday as the senate campaign funds committee pursued its quest for the inside story of the keystone state's $2,000,000 primary.

In prime form, Senator Reed, of Missouri, the committee chairman conducted the questioning. Almost without a letup during the two hour session he prodded toward the inner workings of the Vare organization its sources of revenue and its methods of battle, and in particular, its operations in the Vare stronghold in the "first 20 wards of Philadelphia."

Harry A. Mackey, field marshal of the organization in the recent primary campaign, was taken step by step through these wards where his precincts Vare polled more than 100 votes to one over the combined strength of his two opponents governor Pinchot and Senator Pepper. The witness said he could not attempt to account for the variations in comparative strength shown in some of these wards, but he maintained that the voting had been according to the rules of the game and protested that the stuffing of ballot boxes would have been impossible even if some one had wanted to do it.

Another witness Joseph N. Mackrell of the Pittsburgh end of the Vare campaign was given a surprise grilling about a long distance telephone conversation in which he had indulged just before the committee met.

When Mackey took the stand the committee chairman warned him to "stick to the questions" when he replied to questions. Taking up the Philadelphia returns by wards, Reed then asked for the witness, opening with the cause of the varying returns in the various precincts.

Mackey said the Pepper vote of 735 in the Tenth ward was against 2,834 for Vare was surprisingly large.

"How did they come to get away from that ward?" asked Reed.

"I don't know."

Explaining the big Vare vote in the Twelfth ward Mackey said James B. Sheehan, leader of the ward and a former register of wills fed the poor.

"I've seen 'em outside his home three blocks long" he said.

"Reed wanted to know where he got the money and Mackey said he had made it in fees while registrar of wills, naming $130,000 as his income."

"You can't feed thousands very long on that," Reed observed.

"I could feed my family a long time on that."

When Mackey declared it would be impossible to have the ballot boxes used up before election and then switch them after the election he supported his assertion by explaining that each candidate had watchers at the polls.

At one point Senator Reed said the returns "demonstrated that the votes are not counted at all but merely returned" but Mackey disputed the proposition.

Reverting to the charges of Benjamin H. Renshaw, a municipal judge, that there was corruption in the Philadelphia election last fall, Reed asked if it was not a fact that one box was opened and no votes found.

"Not at all," said Mackey. "You've got the wrong end of the state; I heard that happened in Pittsburgh."

DESCRIBE ORGANIZATION
Drawn by the rapid questioning of Reed into a detailed description of how the Vare organization operates Mackey said the ward leader who did not know each voter in his ward was inefficient.

"You help 'em when they are sick," Red asked.

"Yes."

"And when in jail?"

"Yes, that's when a man needs a friend."

"Part of the business of your organization is to get them out of trouble."

STUDENTS MAY MAKE UP WORK DURING SUMMER

Special Summer School Courses Are Offered by Three Institutions

Arrangements have been made by H. H. Helble, principal of Appleton high school, for students who have failed in schoolwork the past year to make up the work during the summer. Students who wish to make up work should see Mr. Helble at the high school at once.

Was in which students may make up work, according to Mr. Helble, are to attend summer school at either Oshkosh or Kaukauna; to take a special course with the University Extension division; to tutor with some private teacher whose work is recognized.

The summer school at Oshkosh will be in session six weeks at the high school there beginning June 21. Classes will be held only in the morning on all week days. The fee is $3 per week and English, mathematics and history will be taught. Any student failing in a course may make them up by attending this school.

The Kaukauna summer school is to be in session at the Outagamie Rural Normal school for five weeks from July 12 to Aug. 14. Classes at this school will be held in the morning only on all week days. The fee is $2 for English, modern history, physiology, commercial arithmetic and second semester physics will be taught.

Students enrolling in either of these summer schools may only carry two subjects.

Fifteen Appleton students already have enrolled for special work with the University extension division, according to Mr. Helble. The university offers a larger variety of subjects.

Students who are behind in their work are urged to attend summer school or to enroll for special work so as to make up their work before the opening of school in fall. In many cases, according to Mr. Helble, making up work of this kind may mean graduation. Students who fail too far behind often become discouraged and quit school.

Many students take advantage of the summer school to earn extra credits and thus finished the high school course in less than the regular time.

Palmer Chiropractor

QUESTION—I have been treated and mistreated for two years with nervous headaches until my patience is exhausted, trying advertised remedies. What is your opinion?

ANSWER—An examination and Spinal Analysis will not only enable us to locate the true cause of your illness, but it will enable us to give you a sane, logical, easily proven conclusion as to what is causing your nervous headaches. We are not hampered with faulty diagnosis nor the element of doubt in finding a remedy.

We recognize disease as having one primary cause. We use but one remedy. We know that if the cause is corrected with Spinal Adjustments the patient will get well. Therefore, My opinion is that you take Chiropractic Adjustments.

QUESTION—I am a Booster for Chiropractic because I have witnessed some marvelous cures by you, but to settle an argument with my neighbor will you kindly tell us what percentage of your patients are benefited with spinal adjustments?

ANSWER—If the patients stay with the Chiropractor until he has accomplished the essential changes in the spine the results will be 90%.

This department is edited to spread the better knowledge of Chiropractic as a possible method of correcting the cause of sickness and interests of better community health. Inquires of practical value will be answered in order received if addressed to

HOSPITALS CARE FOR MORE WITH MENTAL DISEASE

Number of Patients in State Institutions Has Increased

Madison—(AP)—Increase in the number of patients in hospitals for mental disease, reported in Wisconsin as well as elsewhere in the United States, is attributed by the department of commerce at Washington as being due partly to the more general use of hospital care.

Wisconsin had 9,462 patients in hospitals for mental disease at the beginning of this year, according to figures compiled by the state board of control. The number on parole was listed at 1,945.

The number of patients in Wisconsin institutions has increased nearly 400 since Jan. 1, 1923, figures made public by the department of commerce show. A preliminary report issued by the federal department shows 9,691 in Wisconsin institutions on Jan. 1, 1923, and 225 on parole.

POSTMASTERS TO MEET AT LACROSSE IN JUNE

Arrangements for the annual convention of the Wisconsin Postmasters' association, to be held at Lacrosse June 21 and 22, have been completed, according to William H. Zuehlke, secretary-treasurer of the association. Senator Irvine L. Lenroot will address the convention on Tuesday morning. Among the 16 speakers, Postmaster Giles H. Putnam, New London, will give an address on "The Postmaster's Relation to the Public." Postmaster E. G. Schlerf of Oshkosh, is also to speak at the convention.

There were 287,617 patients in institutions in the entire United States and 22,839 on parole at that date, according to the report.

The patients in Wisconsin on Jan. 1 of this year were distributed as follows: Wisconsin State Hospital for the Insane, 663; Memorial hospital, 262; Northern Hospital for the Insane, 606; Central Hospital for the Insane, 138; Milwaukee County hospital, 914; 36 county asylums for the chronic insane, 6,872. The records show 637 on parole from the state hospital, 513 from the Northern hospital, 311 from the Milwaukee institution and 425 from the county asylums.

WHOOPIING COUGH APPEARS IN CITY

Seven Cases Are Listed by Health Department, Sanders Reports

Whooping cough has made its annual appearance in the city during the past few weeks, Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer, reported. Seven cases exist here at present, compared with five cases last month. The disease usually spreads because of failure of parents to keep children who are afflicted with it at home, according to Mr. Sanders. If a child is stricken with whooping cough, neither he nor any other child in the family may leave the home, and other children are not permitted there, a city ordinance provides. These provisions do not include adults. It is violations of the ordinance which are chiefly responsible for spread of the disease, Mr. Sanders declared.

Whooping cough is most prevalent in spring and summer, according to Mr. Sanders. The disease usually makes its appearance about the middle of spring, and continues in a more moderate degree throughout the greater part of the summer. Records show that last year there were seven cases in May, four in June, four in July, three in August and one in October.

The only other contagious disease existing in the city now is scarlet fever, three cases being listed on the records of the health department. There were eight cases last month. Typhoid fever, small pox and diphtheria is extinct just now.

How to make Strawberry Jam keep the color and flavor of the fresh berries

Your jar will taste enough like fresh berries to use in strawberry shortcake if you make it this new, easy, short-boil way with Certo. Save the following recipe to use for your first batch of strawberry jam.

Cut in halves lengthwise with stainless knife about 2 quarts of small or medium sized fully ripe berries. After halving, weigh out 2 lbs. berries, or measure $\frac{4}{5}$ level cups of berries, packing solidly into the cup until juice and fruit come to the top of the cup. Add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Certo. Skim and stir repeatedly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire, to cool slightly. Pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot melted paraffin.

The short boiling time, possible only with Certo, prevents the loss of delicate flavor and the darkening in color which used to occur during the old long boil. It also gives you a larger amount of jam, since you save the large quantity of juice which used to boil away.

Certo is a pure fruit product—the jellying substance of fruit refined and bottled. A book of simple recipes comes with each bottle.

Your grocer carries Certo, or you can send 10c (for postage) and get a trial half-size bottle which will make from 6 to 10 glasses of jam or jelly, depending upon the recipe used. Address Douglas-Pectin Corporation, 9643 Granite Building, Rochester, N. Y.

More than 300 singers from the 11 other cities which will participate in the event are expected to register within the next two weeks. Besides the 700 singers more than 10,000 visitors are expected in Appleton for the big event.

Work of Paving Mill-st from Beacon-ave to City Limits Will Start Soon

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Christ Johnson and Son, contractors, of Oshkosh, were awarded the contract for the Mill-st paving job by the city council Tuesday evening. The bid of the Oshkosh firm was $28,550.58, which was the lowest of the six bids received. The board of public works granted the contract to the Oshkosh firm, last week, with the exception that it be approved by the council and the Outagamie-co highway commission. The latter confirmed it on the same day, as A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner, was present at the meeting.

The Johnson firm started Tuesday evening that it would commence work at once, and the board of public works was instructed to prepare a report on benefits and damages which would be incurred by abutting property owners along the street. The paving will be laid from the corner of Beacon-ave and Mill-st to the city limits, where it will connect with state highway 28.

A recommendation by the board that a sidewalk be laid along Mill-st, from E. Water-st. to the city limits, was also made. A petition for gravel, from Mill-st east on Wallace-st, was referred to the board of public works, and a petition for a sewer on Shiocton-st was likewise referred to the board. Several applications for building permits, coming from R. W. Day and George Fuerst, for garages, from W. J. Sader, and J. C. Lyons, for remodeling and adding to their buildings on N. Water-st. and from H. B. Green, for the erection of a residence, also were referred to the board of public works for investigation.

Applications were received from Fred Baerwald, J. C. Hickey, Steve Sullivan, Gus Sawall, J. W. Hickey, and L. J. Manske for soft drink licenses. All were granted.

Five applications were received for the position of life guard at a swimming pool. All were referred to the public property committee of the council, the council authorizing that body to appoint one of the applicants.

Two bonds were approved by the council during the session. One was for Anna Schaller, who is assistant city clerk. The bond amounted to $5,000. The other was a bond for no stated amount on W. C. Herman, constable.

E. C. Jost appeared before the council with reference to the proposed retaining wall along the Wolf river. He spoke as a representative of the Farmers' State Bank, of which he is cashier, and stated that the bank was not opposed to the construction of the wall, providing that it was granted some consideration by the council in recognition of the fact that it already has a retaining wall and filling in the rear of its building on N. Water-st. The filling alone, Mr. Jost claimed, was worth $200. He stated that the bank did not want a monetary consideration for signing an easement to its property, but did not expect to be forced to pay as much for its share of construction of the wall as will the other abutting property owners.

The Division-st gravel proposition was settled for good on Tuesday evening, when the council voted unanimously to gravel the street for a width of 15 feet only, instead of putting in curb and gutter, and graveling it for 30 feet.

The council voted unanimously to approve of the Waupaca road program, upon which people of the county will vote next Tuesday, and requested all residents of the Waupaca section of the city to turn out on that day and support the measure.

Henry Knapstein, P. J. Laux, and Ike Poppe were appointed on the board of review to serve for the present year. The board meets in July for the purpose of hearing protests against tax assessments, and all citizens of the city are privileged to go before it.

COUNCIL AWARDS PAVING JOB TO FIRM AT OSHKOSH

CITY WILL GIVE $200 TO AID IN SURVEY OF CANAL

Association for Relief from High Water Will Meet Here Thursday

New London—The city council, at its meeting Tuesday evening, appropriated $200 to the Association for the Relief from High Water, for the purpose of carrying out the survey which is to be made of the area in which the proposed cut-off canal would be dug. Frank J. Wolff, secretary of the association, was present at the meeting Tuesday evening and pleaded for a contribution toward the $600 fund which is now being raised to finance the survey.

The association will hold a meeting at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the city hall to discuss the survey and means of raising the balance of the money needed for its execution. Last year a committee from the association went before the War Department at Washington, D. C., and made a plea for the survey of the land in which the canal was being proposed. This canal, it was previously thought, would run from Shiocton to Green Bay, and empty the superfluous waters of the Wolf river in Green Bay.

The survey would, however, determine just where the canal should be constructed, and how much of an expense it would amount to. There has been considerable controversy about the latter item, that of the cost of construction of the ditch. Some have said that it would cost as high as $10,000,000, while others estimate the cost at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. The state drainage engineer, E. R. Jones, has been loaned by the state of Wisconsin to the association to make the survey. He will work for three months, and wants to start July 1.

He will be assisted by several men from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Mr. Jones will, however, hire one extra man himself, and it is for the services of this man that the $600 which the association is now raising is needed. Mr. Jones will attend the meeting in New London Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Wolff stated, when he talked to the council, that the high water situation on the southern end of the Wolf system, namely, down around Fond du Lac, was remedied now as much as it ever would be, and that it was for the benefit of the northern end that the survey and the proposed canal would be put through. He stated that the riparians along the area to be benefited, as well as cities which were in a similar position, would be asked to contribute to the fund of making the survey. The association claims that the proposed cutoff canal would reclaim 150,000 acres of farm land for cultivation, which heretofore have been practically valueless, due to flood waters. This amount of land, it is estimated, would make 1,000 farms which would be benefited, as well as the cities in the district, from which flood waters will be diverted.

MAN TRAPPED IN CAR IS DROWNED

Maurice Turchen, Local Junk Dealer, Runs into Water-filled Ditch

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Trapped in his Ford coupe which was found lying on its side in about four feet of water just off highway 22 about two miles north of Manawa, Maurice Turchen, 33, junk dealer of this city, was drowned sometime between 6 o'clock and 6:30 Tuesday evening. The body was discovered in the car about 6:30 by a passing motorist.

Turchen, who had left Manawa about 6 o'clock, had evidently lost control of his car and driven into the ditch, the machine tipping over on its side. The ditch, which serves as an outlet for a nearby creek, was full of water, and only part of the car protruded above the water. The windows of the car were closed and Turchen was unable to extricate himself.

He had been engaged in the junk business here for about five years. He was a veteran of the World War, having served in France for a year and a half. His former home was in Sheboygan.

He is survived by his wife, three sisters, Mrs. Anne Rudich, of Sheboygan, Mrs. Dora Gwint of Chicago, and Miss Hannah Turchen of Sheboygan; and his father, Joseph Turchen of Sheboygan.

The body, which was conveyed to this city Tuesday night, was taken to Sheboygan Wednesday afternoon where funeral services will be conducted.

Several applications for building permits, coming from R. W. Day and George Fuerst, for garages, from W. J. Sader, and J. C. Lyons, for remodeling and adding to their buildings on N. Water-st. and from H. B. Green, for the erection of a residence, also were referred to the board of public works for investigation.

Applications were received from Fred Baerwald, J. C. Hickey, Steve Sullivan, Gus Sawall, J. W. Hickey, and L. J. Manske for soft drink licenses. All were granted.

Five applications were received for the position of life guard at a swimming pool. All were referred to the public property committee of the council, the council authorizing that body to appoint one of the applicants.

Two bonds were approved by the council during the session. One was for Anna Schaller, who is assistant city clerk. The bond amounted to $5,000. The other was a bond for no stated amount on W. C. Herman, constable.

E. C. Jost appeared before the council with reference to the proposed retaining wall along the Wolf river. He spoke as a representative of the Farmers' State Bank, of which he is cashier, and stated that the bank was not opposed to the construction of the wall, providing that it was granted some consideration by the council in recognition of the fact that it already has a retaining wall and filling in the rear of its building on N. Water-st. The filling alone, Mr. Jost claimed, was worth $200. He stated that the bank did not want a monetary consideration for signing an easement to its property, but did not expect to be forced to pay as much for its share of construction of the wall as will the other abutting property owners.

The Division-st gravel proposition was settled for good on Tuesday evening, when the council voted unanimously to gravel the street for a width of 15 feet only, instead of putting in curb and gutter, and graveling it for 30 feet.

The council voted unanimously to approve of the Waupaca road program, upon which people of the county will vote next Tuesday, and requested all residents of the Waupaca section of the city to turn out on that day and support the measure.

Henry Knapstein, P. J. Laux, and Ike Poppe were appointed on the board of review to serve for the present year. The board meets in July for the purpose of hearing protests against tax assessments, and all citizens of the city are privileged to go before it.

COUNCIL AWARDS PAVING JOB TO FIRM AT OSHKOSH

CITY WILL GIVE $200 TO AID IN SURVEY OF CANAL

Association for Relief from High Water Will Meet Here Thursday

New London—The city council, at its meeting Tuesday evening, appropriated $200 to the Association for the Relief from High Water, for the purpose of carrying out the survey which is to be made of the area in which the proposed cut-off canal would be dug. Frank J. Wolff, secretary of the association, was present at the meeting Tuesday evening and pleaded for a contribution toward the $600 fund which is now being raised to finance the survey.

The association will hold a meeting at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the city hall to discuss the survey and means of raising the balance of the money needed for its execution. Last year a committee from the association went before the War Department at Washington, D. C., and made a plea for the survey of the land in which the canal was being proposed. This canal, it was previously thought, would run from Shiocton to Green Bay, and empty the superfluous waters of the Wolf river in Green Bay.

The survey would, however, determine just where the canal should be constructed, and how much of an expense it would amount to. There has been considerable controversy about the latter item, that of the cost of construction of the ditch. Some have said that it would cost as high as $10,000,000, while others estimate the cost at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. The state drainage engineer, E. R. Jones, has been loaned by the state of Wisconsin to the association to make the survey. He will work for three months, and wants to start July 1.

He will be assisted by several men from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Mr. Jones will, however, hire one extra man himself, and it is for the services of this man that the $600 which the association is now raising is needed. Mr. Jones will attend the meeting in New London Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Wolff stated, when he talked to the council, that the high water situation on the southern end of the Wolf system, namely, down around Fond du Lac, was remedied now as much as it ever would be, and that it was for the benefit of the northern end that the survey and the proposed canal would be put through. He stated that the riparians along the area to be benefited, as well as cities which were in a similar position, would be asked to contribute to the fund of making the survey. The association claims that the proposed cutoff canal would reclaim 150,000 acres of farm land for cultivation, which heretofore have been practically valueless, due to flood waters. This amount of land, it is estimated, would make 1,000 farms which would be benefited, as well as the cities in the district, from which flood waters will be diverted.

MAN TRAPPED IN CAR IS DROWNED

Maurice Turchen, Local Junk Dealer, Runs into Water-filled Ditch

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Trapped in his Ford coupe which was found lying on its side in about four feet of water just off highway 22 about two miles north of Manawa, Maurice Turchen, 33, junk dealer of this city, was drowned sometime between 6 o'clock and 6:30 Tuesday evening. The body was discovered in the car about 6:30 by a passing motorist.

Turchen, who had left Manawa about 6 o'clock, had evidently lost control of his car and driven into the ditch, the machine tipping over on its side. The ditch, which serves as an outlet for a nearby creek, was full of water, and only part of the car protruded above the water. The windows of the car were closed and Turchen was unable to extricate himself.

He had been engaged in the junk business here for about five years. He was a veteran of the World War, having served in France for a year and a half. His former home was in Sheboygan.

He is survived by his wife, three sisters, Mrs. Anne Rudich, of Sheboygan, Mrs. Dora Gwint of Chicago, and Miss Hannah Turchen of Sheboygan; and his father, Joseph Turchen of Sheboygan.

The body, which was conveyed to this city Tuesday night, was taken to Sheboygan Wednesday afternoon where funeral services will be conducted.

Work of Paving Mill-st from Beacon-ave to City Limits Will Start Soon

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Christ Johnson and Son, contractors, of Oshkosh, were awarded the contract for the Mill-st paving job by the city council Tuesday evening. The bid of the Oshkosh firm was $28,550.58, which was the lowest of the six bids received. The board of public works granted the contract to the Oshkosh firm, last week, with the exception that it be approved by the council and the Outagamie-co highway commission. The latter confirmed it on the same day, as A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner, was present at the meeting.

The Johnson firm started Tuesday evening that it would commence work at once, and the board of public works was instructed to prepare a report on benefits and damages which would be incurred by abutting property owners along the street. The paving will be laid from the corner of Beacon-ave and Mill-st to the city limits, where it will connect with state highway 28.

A recommendation by the board that a sidewalk be laid along Mill-st, from E. Water-st. to the city limits, was also made. A petition for gravel, from Mill-st east on Wallace-st, was referred to the board of public works, and a petition for a sewer on Shiocton-st was likewise referred to the board. Several applications for building permits, coming from R. W. Day and George Fuerst, for garages, from W. J. Sader, and J. C. Lyons, for remodeling and adding to their buildings on N. Water-st. and from H. B. Green, for the erection of a residence, also were referred to the board of public works for investigation.

Applications were received from Fred Baerwald, J. C. Hickey, Steve Sullivan, Gus Sawall, J. W. Hickey, and L. J. Manske for soft drink licenses. All were granted.

Five applications were received for the position of life guard at a swimming pool. All were referred to the public property committee of the council, the council authorizing that body to appoint one of the applicants.

Two bonds were approved by the council during the session. One was for Anna Schaller, who is assistant city clerk. The bond amounted to $5,000. The other was a bond for no stated amount on W. C. Herman, constable.

STAGE AND SCREEN

GLORIOUS ADVENTURE
John Barrymore wanted a rugged, adventurous and stirring tale in which to return to the screen after the year in which he was winning international stage fame as the greatest "Hamlet" of his generation. Warner Bros. supplied the story, Herman Melville's "Moby Dick," which became "The Sea Beast" in film form, and Barrymore has supplied screen history with something that inspires tumultuous enthusiasm.

His characterization of Ahab Ceeley in "The Sea Beast," at the Elite Theatre today and tomorrow, is a powerful and compelling proof of his genius. Nothing he has done on the screen can compare with his performance in this production.

The story, written by Herman Melville, is famous for its epic history of the whaling crews of New England in 1840, and for the fascinating drama of a romantic struggle between the two sailor brothers.

George O'Hara plays the brother and Dolores Costello, the missionary's daughter. Millard Webb has worked wonders with the direction of so stupendous a production, and Rupert Hughes has supplied some unusually fine titles. Bess Meredith adapted "The Sea Beast" to the screen, and Byron Haskins photographed it. In every conceivable way this photoplay ranks as one of the greatest glories that the screen has known.

"LAZYBONES" RICH IN QUAIN COMEDY AND HEART THROBS
A picture crowded with quaint comedy, wholesome romance and enough thrills to satisfy even the most blasé audience, based on a thoroughly American play by Owen Davis and produced by William Fox with an all star cast—such is "Lazybones," the photoplay feature which comes to the New Bijou three days starting Thursday.

"Lazybones" is laid in the little town of Milo, Maine, and the plot revolves around the life of Steve Tuttle, known as the slowest man in town. He adopts a mysterious baby, causing the village tongues to wag fast and furiously, loses his sweetheart because he will not explain where he found the child, and then goes on just living until the World War comes along and he goes to France.

Charles (Buck) Jones is a real treat as the lovable-though-un-energetic "Lazybones" and he is supported by a cast which includes Madge Bellamy, Zasu Pitta, Jane Novak, Leslie Fenton, Edythe Chapman, Emily Fitzroy and William Norton Bailey.

GAS PRODUCTION IS IN EXCESS OF PRESENT DEMAND

Producers Should Find Substitute Fuel Instead of Controlling Output

BY ISRAEL KLEIN

Instead of finding ways to meet the ever-increasing demand for gasoline in this country, producers are getting so far ahead of themselves that they're trying to control the present output.

Out of more than 750,000,000 barrels of crude oil produced in this country, have come almost 11 billion gallons of gasoline. Improved cracking processes, less waste in production, and use of more natural gas gasoline, have brought this immense production far above what is needed for the automobiles and other engines of today.

And while there seems to be no sign of a drop in production, there are some who are already turning their attention to the possibilities of other fuels for automobile engines. In fact, there is even more promise today of getting more gasoline out of a definite amount of crude oil than at any time heretofore.

BIG EVAPORATION WASTE

The demand for gasoline last year reached a little more than nine billion gallons. More than a billion gallons of gasoline have evaporated from the excess crude oil produced last year.

That's why producers want to curtail their production.

"There has been a real overproduction far beyond our economic needs," says Dr. Gustav Egloff, prominent mining engineer of America. "The fundamental cause has been the marvelous technical achievement of the cracking process for producing gasoline from heavy oils."

CRACKING RAISES FIELD

"Without this process our needs for crude oil would be more than a billion barrels for 1926 instead of the 500,000,000 barrels now required. The earth should remain the storehouse for this natural wealth until needed by man. Instead of continuing the present wasteful methods of storage, we should run the oil into the pipe line and immediately into the refinery to be processed into cracked gasoline and other products."

The world's production of crude oil last year was 1,050,000,000 barrels, of 42 gallons each, an increase of 5.2 per cent over the peak of 1923. Almost three-fourths of this came from American soil.

YOUR CHILD'S CAREER

Sterling Honesty, Character and Judgment Is Required to Be Successful in Banking Business

No. 8

Chicago—Banking offers a splendid field of public service to the young man of good character and judgment who seeks to enter it not solely for what he can get out of it himself but for the good that he can do to others, says S. W. Straus, nationally known financier and head of the great banking house of S. W. Straus & Co.

"No special training or particular amount of education is necessary for the young man who is willing to start at the very bottom in this business," says Straus. "But no one should attempt to enter it who is without sterling character, honesty and judgment."

"I should say that one of the primary requisites for success in banking is the virtue of thrift. The young man who has acquired this habit will reflect the confidence in his dress, speech and conduct which thrift begets."

CONFIDENCE ESSENTIAL

"Confidence is the main essential to a banker's progress. Without it he cannot succeed."

"The work of a beginner in the field of banking is usually at the very bottom of the ladder. Beginners start quite often as messengers and clerks."

"From that point they progress on up through the various departments or as tellers in the cages where people deposit and withdraw their money."

"The rewards in banking are commensurate with the ability of the individual. And I should say that with average success a young man possessed of real ability and the capacity for earnest study and hard work should rise within five years to a position of fair responsibility."

"He must not be afraid to begin in humble places or fail to keep himself alert."

OPPORTUNITIES

"Opportunities come in the banking world especially to the man who has judgment, courage and vision. All these factors, of course, are premised upon unimpeachable character and the quality that will reflect sincere confidence in others."

Selfishness has no place in banking. Any young man seeking to enter the banking business simply for what he can get out of it for himself had better stay out. Banking in its real meaning and successful terms means service.

"Good understanding is a sufficient requisite for the beginner. He can build on such a foundation by hard study, earnest application and contact with banking in its practical form."

"The technical end he can acquire later. But let him bring with him to begin as his tools thrift and honesty. These will advance him far. The rest depends upon himself."

MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE IS UP TO LOCAL GOLFERS

Sufficient Demand for Course Will Result in Movement for One

Establishment of a municipal golf course in Appleton depends upon the sentiment of the people, according to Hugh G. Corbett, general secretary of the chamber of commerce. If the majority of residents desire a course, the chamber will back a movement to secure one, he said. Expressions regarding the proposal are sought by the chamber and will be welcomed from anyone in the city. The number of such expressions received probably will decide the fate of the issue, Mr. Corbett indicated.

Whether there is a large enough demand for a municipal course here was the question raised at a joint meeting of representatives of the chamber of commerce and the board last week. E. Harwood, chairman of the subcommittee on golf, and Mr. Corbett, represented the chamber.

WANT OPINION
One member of the park board expressed the opinion that, in view of the existence of two golf courses here, there was not room for a third course. Another declared that there were innumerable persons not belonging to either of the local organizations who play at the municipal course at Oshkosh, who would support a municipal course in this city. No proof, however, as to the truth of either opinion, and it was suggested that the sentiment of Appleton's golfers be determined before further action is taken.

If it is decided to construct a course, little financial help can be expected from the park board at present, that body informed the chamber of commerce. With a large improvement program about to be undertaken at Pierce park, for which a $50,000 bond issue has been authorized by the common council, little money, if any, would be available for any other purpose at this time.

C. C. MIGHT HELP
The limit which could be raised by the board would be $2,000 or $3,000, it was indicated to the chamber, and it is not certain whether this amount could be secured. It is estimated that a nine-hole golf course would cost approximately $10,000. The chamber might consider a plan of raising $5,000 or $7,000 if the remainder could be secured from the park board, according to Mr. Corbett. A number of subscriptions already have been offered if the movement is undertaken, he said.

One site now under consideration is South park in the Fourth ward. The park contains approximately 15 acres, large enough for a nine-hole course, according to Mr. Harwood. There also would be sufficient room remaining for tennis courts, a ball diamond, and other features associated with a park.

NEED EQUIPMENT TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES

Madison —(P)— Successful suppression of forest fires in the organized districts of Wisconsin this year demonstrated the need for equipping additional districts, Elmer S. Hall, state conservation commissioner, indicates in asking the emergency board for the appropriation which has just been granted for this purpose. Of the $80,000 appropriated by the emergency board for conservation purposes, $40,000 is to be used for manning and equipping additional forest fire control districts, Commissioner Hall said. Fire towers will be erected, fire trucks added, a portable pump installed, and the district wardens equipped to cope with fire hazards in the timber districts. The state has laid out thirteen fire districts of about a million acres each. All but nine have been completely organized, Mr. Hall said. Two have district wardens but no equipment, and seven have neither wardens or equipment. Recent fire hazards in the organ-

MISS CARNCROSS IS LIBRARY GRADUATE

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Carncross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Carncross, 826 E. Alton-st., is one of the class of 34 graduates of the Wisconsin Library school at Madison to receive diplomas at the 20th annual commencement of the school Wednesday evening. Miss Carncross has accepted a position as children's librarian in a branch library at Kansas City, Mo., and will begin work there soon. Mathew Simpson Dudgeon, Milwaukee public librarian, will deliver the address at the commencement exercises Wednesday evening and President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin will present the diplomas. Of the 34 graduates of the school, 32 already have obtained positions in 13 different states and Canada. While negotiations were being carried on, petitions were received from the Third and Fourth wards asking for sub-fire stations in those districts. The deal appeared to hinge on the question of whether it was

EXPECT COUNCIL TO REVIVE FIRE DEPARTMENT DEAL

Will Consider Proposed Purchase of Langstadt-Meyer Property

The proposed purchase of the Langstadt-Meyer Co. property, 213 17 E. Washington-st., pending for more than a year, probably will be reviewed again by the common council at its regular meeting Wednesday evening. The matter was brought up by Alderman Mark Catlin at the last council meeting, but action was deferred to allow the aldermen more time to investigate. Alderman Catlin declared he would introduce the proposal again at the following meeting. The property is being considered as a site for the police and fire departments. According to a former agreement reached with the owners of the property, the deal would involve a trade for the building now occupied by the police and fire departments. The Langstadt-Meyer building was held at $83,000, and the owners agreed to accept the fire department property in trade for $55,000. The deal was proposed more than a year ago when John Goodland, Jr. was mayor. He appointed a special committee, consisting of himself, Alfred C. Bosser, city attorney, Albert C. Rule, former city assessor, and Aldermen Mark Catlin, P. Earle and Charles Pose. The committee conducted a number of investigations and held several meetings, but failed to report a recommendation to the council. While negotiations were being carried on, petitions were received from the Third and Fourth wards asking for sub-fire stations in those districts. The deal appeared to hinge on the question of whether it was more desirable to establish a central station or several sub-stations. It is this question which the council no doubt will attempt to answer Wednesday evening.

TO HOLD SCHOOL BOARD CONVENTION IN AUGUST

No date has been set for the annual school boards convention in Outagamie-co., but it is expected that the convention will be held in Appleton during the middle or latter part of August, according to A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools. The date for the Outagamie-co. school boards convention was tentatively set for Aug. 27, by John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction, in a schedule of convention dates which was made public Saturday. This date would conflict with the annual rural teachers' institute, which is to be held here Aug. 27 and 28, however, and another date will be named. Efforts will be made to choose a day which will be most convenient to farmers, before the rush of harvest season. Programs for the rural school boards convention of the teachers' institute have not been completed.

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

ERNEST LYNN, AUTHOR OF THE YELLOW STUB

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JOHN and FAY MILBURN, to whom a baby girl has just been born, buy a home of their own when the advertising agency, in which John is a partner and copy writer, lands an important contract.

Previous chapters told how John, while Fay was in the hospital, met NELL ORME at a party and was attracted by her beauty and puzzled to hear from PAT FORBES, his host, that Nell was having trouble with her husband. Forbes, who has a wife and three children, hints that he is dissatisfied with his own marriage.

DR. DICK MENEFEE, John's best friend, gets married to MARGARET WAYNE, and Margaret's youngest sister, CLARA, runs away and marries CLIF. TON LANE, whom John cordially dislikes.

John works late one evening and chances to encounter ELLENOR MASON, whom he takes to dinner. Fay hears about it through a neighbor, and there is a quarrel.

Christmas comes and both of them are very lonely at being away from their people in Chicago. There are several visitors during the day, including DONALD VAUGHANS, whose life, John explains to Fay when they had gone, was more or less a tragedy because they wanted children badly and were unable to have them.

OW GO ON WITH THE STORY (The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER XIX
I guess we're pretty lucky, at that, aren't we?" said John, turning to Fay. "What would we do without her?"

"I don't know. I don't know," Fay bent over the crib and picked up the baby in her arms and squeezed her close to her breast.

"Now aren't you ashamed of yourself for talking the way you did about people being lucky? Not to be down with children? Aren't you?" John was grinning.

"Indeed I am," Fay was swaying from side to side, and Judith was enjoying it. Addressing Judith, she said, "Was your mama mean to you, huh? Was she?"

John bent over and pinched Judith's cheek. "I'll have to take your mother in hand, Judy."

He turned again to Fay. "I feel better now," he said. "Don't feel so homesick and so darned homesick. Maybe it's the egg-nogg." He patted his stomach fondly.

A week or so later there was an invitation to dinner from Pat and Marian Forbes.

"Not a party," Fay. Marian laughed over the phone. "Just you and John. Can you come—tomorrow night?"

Fay got in touch with the girl who sometimes minded Judith and then phoned her acceptance to Marian. That evening she met the Ormes for the first time.

Pat was in good spirits at dinner. "Thought I'd have to do something to celebrate," he remarked jovially. "Got a nice raise this week." He added, winking at John, "Bought a little of real pre-war stuff. Boy, it'll knock your eyes out."

he thought, and it glistened beneath the lights like burnished copper. She dropped into a chair beside him. "Well," she began, "when I saw you last, you had just become a proud father. How does it seem now? Still thrilled, or has the novelty worn off?"

"No chance of the novelty wearing off," he smiled. "Judith presents a new phase every day."

Pat Forbes was trying to make himself heard. "I'm asking you," he said for the fourth time, "who's going to do the Charleston with me?"

"It's beyond me," Pat laughed. "Nell Orme and Fay said, 'Marian, how do you account for Pat's mastering every new dance step?'"

"I'll tell you," said Pat gravely. "I see it done once, and then I've got it."

"Sounds pretty thin," Pat John remarked. He turned to Marian. "Why, the kid's an expert," he laughed. Pat, for want of a partner, was doing the Charleston alone.

Nell Orme stood up. "I'll try it with you, Pat," and took his arm. "Don't be too critical," she called to John.

She had that confidence, John noted that is possessed by all good dancers. The protegee steps were baffling to her at first, but after a few failures she had mastered the principal, and presently she and Forbes were hitting it off fairly well.

"Tell you what," breathed Pat, when their radio orchestra had signed off and he was mopping his forehead, "it takes me to teach 'em—what?"

"Well, I like that," said Fay. "It seems to me you had the material to work with."

"Prophet without honor," sighed Pat. "I'm going to buy another drink."

Howard Orme pulled out his watch. "Time we were getting along, Nell," he remarked quietly. His lips closed in their characteristic thin straight line.

"On the way home, Fay said to John, 'I like Mrs. Orme very much. We'll have to have them out some time.'"

"Pretty nice people," he agreed. "What did you think of him?"

"Oh—I don't know. He's very quiet, isn't he? I think she's beautiful. She has lots of poise."

"Uh-huh," he grunted. They were beginning to find themselves in the midst of quite a social whirl. There were several other dinner invitations during the weeks that followed, and then there came a bid from the Noel Boyds to their "Parlor Bolshevik Party," as the written invitations expressed it.

"What do they mean by Parlor Bolshevik Party?" asked Fay. "Does it mean the men must have long hair and the women short? And must we wear old clothes? I'm afraid I'll have to call up and ask Marian Forbes. She knows them better than we do."

"Knowing the Boyds," said John impatiently, "you know they just had to be different." Ordinary invitation wouldn't do. I wouldn't pay any attention to it, if I were you. If they really wanted it a costume party, they'd have said so. I'll tell you what—let's go in evening clothes."

They did—and so, they found, did all the other guests. "A fine lot of Bolsheviks you are!" sneered Noel Boyd. Himself he wore a dinner coat with no vest, a white silk shirt, a black Windsor tie and a black velvet tam-o'-shanter.

"You said Parlor Bolsheviks, Noel," laughed Pat Forbes, an immaculate little figure in his dinner clothes. "Hello, Vera. I see you haven't any of your husband's crazy notions."

Vera, in a green, tight-fitting gown, was an exotic figure with her black hair, unbobbed and drawn back smoothly, and her pale face. She made some smiling reply to Pat and at once took hold of John's arm.

"You've been avoiding me," she accused, and led him to a quiet corner. "Do you know everybody here?"

"Well, there are quite a few I don't recall—" John began, but she cut him about. "Oh, you'll bump into them presently."

There was much in a huge bowl off in a corner, and there John, in quest of drinks for Vera and himself, met a man named York and a young, flapperish sort of a girl whose name he was not quite sure of but which sounded like Cecil. Eleanor Mason was there, too, and it seemed to John that when she encountered Pat Forbes she was a little stiff and distant.

He spoke of this to Vera. "Oh hadn't you heard?" she asked, and when he told her he hadn't she suggested, "Well, let's go outside where we can't be overheard."

"But it's rather cold," he protested. "We'll sit in one of the closed cars," she said, and slipped into another room and came out with something concealed under her arm.

They found an empty sedan and Vera at once began to make herself comfortable, first setting down the bottle which she had hidden under her arm.

"It's gin," she explained. "In case we get cold, you know." She held the bottle to her lips and then handed it to John.

He took it mechanically and drank, thinking all the while that he was seeing a new Vera Boyd. It certainly wouldn't do to be seen, he thought—out here with another man's wife. He spoke his thoughts out here? Want they ma under stand?"

She laughed. "Don't worry about my husband. There he is now. Just look at him— isn't he the devil?" John turned his head. There, on the Boyds' doorstep, was Noel—kissing the flapperish Miss Cecil.

Work and Profits

Through the First Stock Purchasing Plan, 15,325 employees became joint owners of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), sharing in the profits of the Company.

Under this plan, initiated five years ago and just completed, the Company added 50 cents to every dollar paid in by the employees toward the purchase of the Company's stock.

This liberal arrangement met with enthusiastic response. By the careful thrift it encouraged, the employees were able to save $11,800,000 to invest in Standard Oil Company (Indiana) stock.

Recently they received stock to the value of $25,350,000, representing, in addition to their subscriptions, the stock added by the Company under the terms of the plan, plus the ordinary dividends.

Thus five years of installment paying on stock of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) brought employees of the Company an appreciation of $13,550,000.

The only stockholder receiving a larger share of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) profits is a philanthropic organization—the Rockefeller Foundation—established "to promote the well-being of mankind throughout the world."

The Rockefeller Foundation receives 5.4% of the total dividends, while the employees receive 4.2%.

The fact that the employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) receive the second largest share of its profits is highly appropriate.

The work of the loyal employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is of a kind deserving generous encouragement, worthy of reward.

They work energetically, secure in the knowledge that their efforts will be appreciated.

They work enthusiastically, certain of friendly co-operation and helpful encouragement from the management.

They work harmoniously together, conscious of the high creed of service which binds them into a single united force. The work of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employees is of a kind that cannot be commanded or forced; it must be inspired by such deeply human things as loyalty and faith and true devotion. It must be sustained by a simple delight in doing things well.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) owes its success to work of this calibre, carried on in every phase of its activity by a vast army of loyal men and women—the employees.

The profits received by employees, who also are stockholders, represent an incidental reward for the kind of work that is done for the joy of the doing—the kind of work that is responsible for the service the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to render the thirty million people of the Middle West.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-
COTT TO LITTLE MARQUISE
CARE OF THE SECRET
DRAWER—CONTINUED

My oldest son, I never write these words, in fact they never come into my consciousness that a little thrill does not pass over my body. For I know, whatever black could come into my life again, he would still crown me with a halo of glory.

Oh Little Marquise, you can never know the joy that was mine when I found those two boys in my arms after I returned from Ruth. Of course little Sydney is too young yet to talk, but with his little moist mouth against my throat, and his blinking eyes searching my face, I could not ask for any more expression of love that he gave me.

I confess I was a tiny bit jealous for the first time in my life when I found that little Jack had made such friends with Paula. You see, Little Marquise, I was secretly afraid that the ties between them might offset my love and care. But now I know that whole idea that a mother who bears a child loves it or a child loves her more, is not true. Bearing a child is only an animal function which woman has with every other female thing and there is no mysterious bond between a child and the woman who bears him—but there is a very sacred and mysterious bond between the child and the woman who rears him—who helps to unfold his soul day by day.

It is the woman into whose eyes the child first consciously looks that awakes his power of loving and it is her daily care and devotion that makes the same "Mother" sacred to him.

When I came home, little Jack calmed all my fears by innocently saying that the "pretty lady" who came to see him every day made him happy, "cause she talked to me of my mover all the time." That was very sweet of Paula Perier, Little Marquise, for it must have cut her to the heart to see Jackie bursting with love for me. I'm afraid she is a bigger woman than I would be under the same circumstances.

Poor old Jack! He has had a lot to go through lately, and I can see that he's very nervous about the coming motion picture to be taken at the mill. Last night he seemed very relieved when I told Sally Atherton, who was here, that I would not go to the mill while they were taking the picture as I thought John would have enough to look after without looking after me.

Sally seems thin and a little worn lately. I've often wondered why she doesn't marry again. She seems perfectly content to work her life away in John's office. She has had a great deal on her shoulders while John was confined to the house.

We arranged today to have lunch with Paula Perier on the last afternoon of the bazaar which begins tomorrow.

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

Indeed you could call it a moonbeam no longer. It was a tall bright ladder leaning right up against the moon, each bar a rung of shining gold. It came right down through the window and rested on the floor at their feet, the ladder did, as much as to say, "Climb me."

"Hello there!" said Nick. "This must be the way to Drowsy Land, Nancy. Come on! I'll go first."

So up went Nick hand over hand, and up went Nancy right after him. At first the ladder looked a mile high, but magic shoes are great climbers, and it seemed to the Twins that they had scarcely taken more than ten steps when suddenly they were right at the moon.

And there stood a queer little moon man watching them silently as they stepped off the ladder and began to look around.

"Which one?" said he in a queer silent voice that sounded, when he spoke, as though you had cotton in your ears.

"Which land?" said the queer little moon man. "We have several. There is Dream Land and the Land of Nod, and Drowsy Land. Drowsy Land is in between the other two."

"That's the place we want to go to," said Nancy quickly.

The little moon man took a huge key out of his pocket and said, "Follow me." He didn't waste words, I tell you.

So the Twins followed and soon the little moon elf stopped before a high blue gate wide enough to allow one person to pass through at a time.

"We're here," he said, putting the key into the lock and turning it. Then he gave the tall gate a push and stopped inside. The Twins passed in, and without a word their queer guide shut the gate behind them. They could hear the key turn in the lock.

Now instead of Drowsy Land being bright and shining as one would suppose, it being on the moon and everything, it wasn't so at all! It was sort of twilight. And I'll tell you why. All around were trees, great tall ones like towers. Under their feet was a thick carpet of pine-needles. No matter how hard you walked, you didn't make a sound. It was almost as though you had cotton tied to your shoes.

In every tree was a door and on every door was a door-plate with a name on it.

"Isn't this a funny place," said Nick to Nancy. But his voice sounded a million miles away.

Suddenly a door in one of the tall tree houses opened, and out came— you'll never guess what. An eye! It had arms and legs and a three-cornered hat.

"My goodness!" said Nancy. "What's your name?"

"I'm one of the Forty Winks," said the Eye.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Twins Arrive in Drowsy Land

Nick and Nancy needed no extra light to dress by. The moon shining in through the window made everything as bright as day.

They hurried into their clothes and put on the magic shoes that were to take them to Drowsy Land, as the Fairy Queen said.

Indeed the Fairy Queen herself was sitting nearby on a moonbeam nodding at them in her friendliest way, and talking all the while.

When the Twins had put on the magic shoes, they turned toward the window. "We're all ready," they said. "Shall we start right away?" But nobody answered. The Fairy Queen had disappeared completely. The moonbeam was changed, too!

HOWARD EHMKE, BOSTON HURLER, GOES TO MACKS

FORMER TYGER MAINSTAY IN MAJOR TRADE

Connie Strengthens Staff in 3-cornered Deal; Senators Buy Columbus Hurler

New York (AP)—The major league player market is closed until August 31. In the last rush a few deals were made public but the major transaction did not come from the New York Giants.

It was engineered by none other than that slim veteran who has become a part of Philadelphia baseball benches—Connie Mack.

Mack's first move was to obtain Bill (Baby Doll) Jacobson from the St. Louis Browns for Edmund (Bing) Miller, both players being outfielders. Then he shifted Jacobson and Pitchers Bryan Harriss and Fred Heimach, right handed and southpaw respectively, for pitcher Howard Ehmke of Boston, formerly of the Detroit mound staff.

At the same time, the New York Yankees gained the services of a much desired left-handed pinch hitter in Roy Carlyle through waiver from Boston.

Manager McGraw of the Giants announced the signing of the college pitcher, Al Smith and the college outfielder, Joe Connell, both from Villa Nova. Catcher James Boyle, also reported to the Giants. The previous day, McGraw exchanged outfielder Billy Southworth for Heinie Mueller, St. Louis Cardinal, Gardner.

Brooklyn has signed Jim Silver, former Notre Dame catcher and captain.

Washington announced the purchase of the Cuban left hander, Emilio Palmero, from Columbus of the American association.

PICK BADGER AS 1ST PLACE RIVAL AFTER WORKOUTS

Cardinals Display Form Superior to Penn, California and Columbia Crews

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—The Wisconsin eight which has travelled one thousand miles to enter the Poughkeepsie classic went through an impressive practice session on the Hudson Tuesday. The lake state crew displayed a rowing form in their work Tuesday which was easily superior to that of Pennsylvania, California and Columbia, the eights which also worked out.

The crews are picking the middle-westerners as worthy rivals for the Washington and Navy eights, the favorites in the national regatta to be held in two weeks.

Coach Spahn put his Pennsylvania eight through a strenuous two mile workout this morning. The workout Wednesday will find a number of subs in the Penn shell as several varsity men left for Philadelphia to take part in commencement exercises.

The California crew is a powerful combination, one which should be a formidable contender if Coach Ky Ebright can get his men rowing together smoothly. The freshmen eight is also a giant outfit, the weight averaging 170.

The crack Columbia freshman eight is showing as well as when Coach Dick Glendon is hammering away on the junior varsity and varsity.

James Ten Eyck will arrive Wednesday night with his Syracuse crew.

BERLY DEFENDS TITLE AGAINST JACK DELANEY

New York (AP)—Paul Berlenbach will defend his world's lightweight title against Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., July 11 at Ebbets field, Promoter Humber Fluganz announced Tuesday after obtaining the approval of the state athletic commission.

HELPFUL HINTS TO GOLFING STARS

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH GOLFERS MAGAZINE, CHICAGO

GENE SARAZEN—WATCHING THE STARS I paid especial attention to Chick Evans and the manner in which he plays his iron shots. Nobody can control a mid-iron or a mashie-iron shot better than Chick.

I noticed that he always had a firm grip of the club—that is very essential. Also that he held his body perfectly still and allowed the arms to do all of the work. That his pivoting, what little he does, is rhythmic and in perfect co-ordination with the back swing.

With that kind of a swing there is never any danger of stopping over, of having the club wobble, or of having the co-ordination of the arms and body upset. Evans with a three-quarter swing, is able to hit the ball always a firm and true blow.

I also watched Bobby Jones. His firm manner of playing iron shots was also impressive. I could not help but note how firmly all of these stars, Hutchinson, Hazen, Evans and Jones, played their iron shots.

Firmness is the keynote of a successful iron or mashie shot, and to obtain this firmness one must remember always to keep the left arm straight.

NATIONAL RACE TIGHTENS WHEN MACS BEAT REDS

Seven Teams Within 3 1/2 Games of Lead; Macks Knock Indians to 4th

Chicago (AP)—Lines in the National League have been drawn much tighter in the last 24 hours and Wednesday only three and one half games separate the Cincinnati Reds in first position and the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, tied for sixth.

While second-place Pittsburgh was rained out in Boston Tuesday, the Giants took their third straight from the leaders, 9 to 2. Jimmy Bug permitting the Reds only three hits in seven innings when Heinie Mueller just obtained from the Cardinals hit for him and singled across the tying run. Kent Greenfield then pitched hitless ball for two frames while his mates tallied the winning point on Young's single. Lindstrom's double and Kelly's sacrifice fly.

Dizzy Vance struck out nine St. Louis Cardinals in 7 innings at Brooklyn, but lost the game, 4 to 0, because Bill Sherrer allowed only five safeties. The Phillies received some good pitching to support their ever dangerous bats and smothered the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 1. Heinie Sand shooting out a double and two singles for a perfect day at the plate.

Miller Huggins' "Ruthless" Yankees, the Bambino, 9 to 2. Jimmy Bug permitting the Reds only three hits in seven innings when Heinie Mueller just obtained from the Cardinals hit for him and singled across the tying run. Kent Greenfield then pitched hitless ball for two frames while his mates tallied the winning point on Young's single. Lindstrom's double and Kelly's sacrifice fly.

Walberg rose to the occasion for Philadelphia and his 5 to 0 victory sent the Cleveland Indians hurtling into fourth place. Engle, the Athletics' recruit shortstop, started three double plays and was in the middle of a fourth. Bill Lamar registered a home run and two singles.

Urban Kaber opposed Stan Coveleskie at Chicago and the White Sox won, 4 to 1, with the sore-topped person granting only five hits. The only Senator to score came from a four-base blow delivered by Sam Rice.

Ty Cobb's Detroit machine worked smoothly in the ninth scoring three runs to down the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 6. A walk to Warner, triples by Hellmuth and Taverner, and a single by Fathergill accounted for the ninth inning scores.

AMERICAN GOLF STARS START WELL IN BRITAIN

Sunningdale Enghand (AP)—The Southern section of the qualifying play for the British Open golf championship started Wednesday under excellent conditions. The day was dull but calm and the course was in excellent shape.

Of the American entered, Joe Stein and Bill Mehlhorn were the first to complete the round. Stein took 75 and Mehlhorn 76. Stein started weakly, particularly on the green. Mehlhorn was also putting badly and took fives on the first and second holes.

Joe Kirkwood had a fine 71. St. Anne's England (AP)—Walter Hagen started well in the central section of qualifying play for the British open golf championship. The American professional turned in a card of 72 for his eighteen holes Wednesday morning.

The national open golf championship which will be held next month will be won or lost on the famous "postage stamp" green of the Scioto Country Club links.

It is a downhill hole onto a postage stamp style of putting green that is well-guarded by sand traps on three sides, front, rear and left. It is a par three and any player will be more than satisfied to get by it in average figures.

Frank Walsh, pro of the Butte des Morts club, will compete in the meet.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Wisconsin gained added prestige in the golf world Monday when two of her three entries in the regional qualifying round for the national open met qualified in fine style and the third missed out by only three strokes. Another Badger, Francis Galt, gets in without the elimination work due to his fine showing at the meet last year when he finished among the first 30. More golf prestige is something the Badger state could do with very well. In the last few years, on the whole, it has been our women players that have performed well enough to be noticed in papers throughout the country, which is all very fine, but still leaves the men out of it. Now there is a chance for the state to make quite a splash if the goddess of luck will smile slightly at the right moment. All three state entries should do fairly well in the July meet.

The qualifying means much to Frank Walsh, local pro. It ranks him as one of the three best pros in the entire state, as he has ranked second in Blakeslie, 1925 state open championship, in the state open last year, although he was forced into third place by the brilliant work of an amateur. With Milwaukee, represented by Galt and Kenosha, by Blakeslie, Appleton and Walsh top the state rank Appleton should be proud of its youthful pro star. Two former Badger golfers, Neil McInyre, formerly at Fond du Lac, and Dave Tosh at Racine, both failed to make the grade, though shooting among the lower 160's.

Aston, England — Lord Astor's Cross Row, won the Royal Hunt cup, here Wednesday.

St. Anne's England (AP)—Walter Hagen started well in the central section of qualifying play for the British open golf championship. The American professional turned in a card of 72 for his eighteen holes Wednesday morning.

At Watrous and Jim Barnes each had 75. Roland MacKenzie took 75. George Kirby of Stoneham, had 70. Josh Taylor of Richmond Park Surrey, 72 and Ted Ray of Oxy 83.

KIWANIS KNOCK LIONS FROM TOP OF LARK LEAGUE

Jungle Monarchs Outthit Rivals, 2-1, but Errors Decide Tilt; Kiwanis on Top

WEEK'S GAMES

Tuesday—Kiwanis 11, Lions 9. Thursday—Rotary vs Y's Men.

All dope was upset Tuesday afternoon at Interlake park in a Lark loop struggle when the Kiwanis softballers strengthened by a third inning in which five tallies crossed the platter whipped the loop-leading Lions, 11-9. The win marred the record of every team in the loop with the first two weeks of play and left the Kiwanis, who have played an extra tilt, on top, with the Lions and Rotary tied for second just a half-game below. The Lions had beaten the Rotary by one score an dthe Rotary had beaten the Kiwanis, by the same amount and then the Kiwanis trimmed the Lions. The Kiwanis also beat the Y's Men by a narrow margin. The losers out-hit the winners, 1, but errors handed the Kiwanis the tilt.

Thursday afternoon the Rotary and Y's Men meet. A win for the Rotary, the favorite, will tie that crew for the top and put the Lions in third while a loss will put the Rotary on the bottom and will tie the Y's Men for second place with the Lions. Tuesday's game in the loop with the Kiwanis, by the terms of the agreement, by agreement of the captains.

McKenzie, Kiwanis hurler, was the star of the fray, pitching his first softball game of the year and out-buffing his rivals considerably. Though Jensen of the Lions also hurled a neat game. Errors behind him practically lost him the tilt in the third frame. Warner, star second-sacker of the winners, pulled McKenzie out of holes at times by cutting off "meant-to-be" Texas leaguers either to the right or left of him in flash style. An error on Warner's drive, a hit by McKenzie and an infield cut by Wright gave the Kiwanis a start of two runs, though his up Jensen and Gochnauer gave the Lions a single in their half of the frame.

In the second inning the score was tied 2-2 when an error in Wood's drive and a hit by Russell gave the Kiwanis a tally and hits by Clippinger and Engle added two to the Lions' total. Hits by Connelly and Schneider added one for the Lions in the third and then the Kiwanis broke loose for their big five, though McKenzie took the only hit of the inning. McCourt, Carlson, LaRoux, Wenzel and Russell made the sacks on errors in this frame.

In the fourth Woods hit gave the Lions a tally and the Kiwanis failed to score. This happened to the Lions in the fifth while hits by Russell and Warner and a walk issued to McCourt added two for the winners. In the sixth the Lions opened up and hits by Zwicker, Jensen, Gochnauer, Heilig and Engle meant four scores. For the Kiwanis, Carlson got on on an error and scored on Wenzel's hit. When the Lions went down 1-2-3 in the first half of the final frame the tilt was over. Jensen fanned three men and walked one while McKenzie fanned four and walked none. Carlson, McKenzie and Warner each scored twice for the winners while Jensen, Heilig and Engle did the same for the losers.

Lineup: Lions—Zwicker, c; Jensen, p; B. Gochnauer, 1b; Connolly, 1ss; Schneider, 2b; Clippinger, 2b; Heilig, 3b; Woods, 1b; Engle, cf. Kiwanis—Warner, 2b; McCourt, 2b; McKenzie, p; Carlson, 1ss; Wright, 1f; LaRoux, 1b; Wenzel, c; Moody, 1f; Russell, rss.

Lions: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 Kiwanis: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 Batteries—Lions—Jensen and Zwicker; Kiwanis—McKenzie and Wenzel.

BROWNS FINALLY HAVE HIT EXPECTED STRIDE

Sister and his Brownies seem to have hit their regular pace at last. In the last two weeks of play the Missourians have won the majority of their starts. It was about time the team was showing something, however, for it's certainly capable of playing better than seventh-place ball.

BADGER CREW IN 3RD-PLACE RACE

Dope Gives Navy, Huskies Edge; Four Crews Battle for Third Position

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—The race for third place in the intercollegiate varsity classic promises to be of greater interest than the battle for first honors. On the dope, Navy and Washington lead the field and in the same way, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Cornell are slated to struggle for third honors.

Meanwhile, a new candidate for third honors has come upon the scene. After over a week of training, Coach Richard Glendon of Columbia has thrown his material up in the air and juggled it to new positions in his varsity shell. The result leaves only three veterans of the Child's-cup race in the boat. Davis, who last year stroked the eight but who has been riding in the junior varsity this year, finds himself again the varsity leader. The others are recruited from the junior eight, the 150 pounders and the substitutes.

The Badgers reeled off about twelve miles Monday, four in the morning and eight in the afternoon. Vail has kept his men well out of sight of the other crews and by this means, has the rival coaches guessing.

London (AP)—Harry Persson of Sweden, won the heavyweight championship of Europe by knocking out Phil Scott, English champion, 11.

How Would You Handle A "Losing Proposition"?

Let's suppose that when you come home from work some day, you discover that you've lost your watch-or your wallet.

First of all, you'd feel discouraged. And no wonder. Recovering what you've lost-just "somewhere in town"-would seem a pretty hopeless case.

But when you'd probably think of the Post-Crescent's Lost ads. You'd remember what you've heard about the results that they get in returning missing valuables to their owners.

And then you'd call 543 and ask for an ad taker.

After that, it's up to your little ad in the A-B-C Classified Section. You may be sure that if an honest person found what you lost, he will turn to the Post-Crescent's Lost and Found Column. And you know that nine out of ten people are honest.

Don't worry when you lose something-call 543 instead.

"BIG TIME" AT ANNUAL OUTING
Brain and Brawn Mix in Tug-of-war, Baseball and Footraces

That brain is mightier than brawn was proved at the annual stag picnic of the Appleton Advertising club Tuesday afternoon at Stroebe's Island in a tug-of-war team captain by Chas. Muller won from a team captained by Arthur Jones. The Jones squad contained the heavyweights who started in to show their superiority and pull Muller's team to the river. Muller used his head instead of being pulled, snagged the rope around a tree and held fast. The judges decided the contest in favor of Muller because his superior "generalship."

More than 60 members of the club attended the picnic and the outdoor supper which was served at 6:30. The baseball game in the afternoon between teams captained by Dr. W. J. Frawley and Henry Rossmel was won by the Frawley outfit. It was said Wednesday Rossmel was to protest the game because of the umpiring by H. A. Schlitz.

Peter Traas won the fat man's race when John Haug, who was leading the field caught his foot on a stubble and fell. Ed. Murphy was a close second.

John Johnson arrived just a few seconds too late to enter the contest, although it was said that all the besting favored Johnson to win, and his admirers were pretty hot under the collar when he failed to appear on the scene. Traas was heard to remark (after the contest) that John was scared out of the race.

The archery contest was won by Harold Hallett and E. A. Kilkoren.

COURT ORDERS CHILD RESTORED TO HER MOTHER

Mrs. Zylphia Whitehead Regains Custody of Her Daughter

An opinion directing that an order be entered restoring Mabel Whitehead to her mother and that the costs of the proceeding be paid by the respondents, Henry A. Stearns and Rose Stearns, has been filed by Judge Theodore Berg in the office of the clerk of courts, in the suit brought by Zylphia Whitehead against Mr. and Mrs. Stearns for the return of the child to her custody.

In 1924 in the final decree of divorce which was granted to Mrs. Whitehead, the opinion states, the custody of the two children, Clifford and Mabel Whitehead, was awarded to their mother, and the father was ordered to pay $40 a month for the care and support of the minor children, which he never paid.

On two occasions Mabel was in custody of Mr. and Mrs. Stearns, the latter an aunt of Mrs. Whitehead, but was returned by them with expressions that they did not desire to keep the child, according to the opinion.

MOTHER WANTS CHILD
On July 6, 1924, the child was taken to the Stearns home where she remained since, but under order of the court from Dec. 23, 1925, when the court proceeding was started, Mrs. Whitehead never relinquished her authority over the child, but demanded her return during the period of her custody. Her demands were met by divers excuses, but the Stearns never refused to surrender the child until a short time before the holiday season of 1925, according to the opinion.

During the period of custody Mrs. Whitehead was willing and offered to pay the Stearns any expense they might have incurred by reason of the custody of Mabel.

No testimony was offered to show that the mother neglected her responsibilities in any manner, or to show that her character, life and

APPLETON FIRM RIVETS GREEN BAY BUILDING

The Fox River Boiler company has been awarded the contract for riveting the steel on the new four story department store being erected at Green Bay for the Jorgenson-Blesch company. The building was started last week and a large crew of men from the local plant is engaged in the work. Riveting will take approximately six months, according to E. J. Femal, president of the company.

BURMEISTER, IN STATE PRISON, SEEKING PARDON

Makes Application to Governor Blaine for Pardon from 11-year Term

Application for pardon of Rudolph Burmeister, now serving an 11-year term in state prison at Waupun, has been made to Governor John J. Blaine by Mark Catlin, Burmeister's attorney. Date of the hearing has not been set. Burmeister was sentenced to the prison term by the late Judge A. M. Spencer, after he was found guilty of a statutory offense with a girl who was of less than legal age. He has served nearly three years of the sentence. John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, has been notified of the application as the representative of the state.

Executive clemency was denied last week by Governor Blaine to Dr. H. Fleischner, Clintonville, who was sentenced in May, 1925, to five years in state prison after he was found guilty of second degree manslaughter because of an illegal operation which caused the death of a young woman.

Surroundings were unfit for contact with the child the opinion states. Some testimony was offered to reflect upon the character and mode of life of Mrs. Whitehead, but such testimony has no probative force, the opinion says. Poverty offers no grounds for interference by a court, Judge Berg ruled in the opinion.

COLLEGE BANS LATE PARTIES AMONG CAMPERS

Requires All Greek Organizations to Be Properly Chaperoned

Lawrence Greek letter organizations can no longer stage all-night parties at Waupaca. College girls camping with sororities at the lake this week must report to chaperones at 1 o'clock in the morning, and fraternity men must check in not later than 1:30.

This ruling is an innovation this year. It has been the annual custom of most sororities and fraternities at Lawrence to spend a week in cottages at the lake, and during past years these parties have been largely unchaperoned.

This year each group must have an official chaperone approved by the college. All-night parties will be taboo, and the groups as organizations will be held responsible for the conduct of individual members who attend. Any misconduct probably will result in the removal of the group's social privileges next year. While the attitude of the college toward the outings at Waupaca seems to be distinctly unfavorable, the administration will not prohibit them while they are properly managed.

Letters were sent out recently by Henry Merritt Wriston, president of Lawrence, to the parents of members of the groups which are in attendance at Waupaca. The letters explained the attitude of the college toward the outings, and asked the parents, co-operation in seeing to it that they are properly managed "in order that they may make for the betterment of morale in the student body."

After leaving the park the boys will travel north and spend a few weeks in Canada. From Florida they will drive along the Atlantic coast and then back to Appleton.

Ten-Year 4 3/4% Gold Bonds

Dated June 15, 1926

Non-Callable

Due June 15, 1936

Principal and semi-annual interest (June 15th and December 15th) payable in United States gold coin in New York.

The Province of New Brunswick, one of the oldest Canadian provinces, adjoins the State of Maine on the northeast. The character of the country is similar to that of northern New England, the principal activities being in lumber, wood pulp, paper manufacturing, agriculture, shipbuilding and fishing.

The substantial character of the population of this old province has tended to a conservative management of its finances with the result that its obligations rank among the best of Canadian securities.
